NEW QUESTION: 1
Your network contains an Active Directory domain named contoso.com. The domain contains a domain controller named DC1 that hosts the primary DNS zone for contoso.com.
All client computers are configured to use DC1 as the primary DNS server.
You need to configure DC1 to resolve any DNS requests that are not for the contoso.com zone by querying the DNS server of your Internet Service Provider (ISP).
What should you configure?
A. Naming Authority Pointer (NAPTR) DNS resource records (RR)
B. Name server (NS) records
C. Condition& forwarders
D. Forwarders
Answer: D

zones. Each primary andsecondary name server should be declared through this record.

B.

arding
C. manage the Domain Name System (DNS) traffic between your network and the Internet
D.Configure forwarders to send DNS queries directly to your ISP's DNS server or other DNS
servers.
Most of the time, when you configure forwarders, DNS performance and efficiency increases, but thisconfiguration can also introduce a point of failure if the forwarding DNS server is experiencing problems.
A forwarder is a Domain Name System (DNS) server on a network
used to forward DNS queries for externalDNS names to DNS servers outside of that network.
A DNS server on a network is designated as a forwarder by having the other DNS servers
in the networkforward the queries they cannot resolve locally
to that DNS server.
By using a forwarder, you can manage name resolution for names
outside of your network,
such as names onthe Internet, and improve the efficiency of name resolution for the computers in your network.
