NEW QUESTION: 2
Note: This question is part of a series of question that use the same set of answer choices. Each answer choice may be used once, more than once, or not at all.
Your network contains a server named DC1 that has the DHCP Server server role installed.
You discover the following warning message in the Event log of DC1:
"The DHCP service encountered the following error while cleaning up the database: An error occurred while accessing the DHCP database. Look at the DHCP server event log for more information on this error."
You need to resolve the warning message.
What should you do?
A. Restore the database from a backup.
B. Configure name protection.
C. Configure Open Shortest Path First (OSPF) on the router
D. Reconcile the scope.
E. Configure Routing Information Protocol version 2 (RIPv2) on the router
F. Compact the database.
G. Increase the database cleanup interval.
H. Modify the start address.
I. Configure a DHCP Relay Agent.
J. Authorize DC1 in Active Directory.
K. Configure DHCP link layer-based filtering.
Answer: A
Explanation:
If the server is having problems accessing the DHCP database, it makes the most sense to restore it from a backup. Compacting it would help it take up less space, but that's not going to help the server access it, as it appears to have been corrupted.

NEW QUESTION: 3
A security engineer is asked by the company's development team to recommend the most secure method for password storage.
Which of the following provide the BEST protection against brute forcing stored passwords? (Select TWO).
A. SHA2
B. Bcrypt
C. AES
D. CHAP
E. MD5
F. PBKDF2
Answer: B,F
Explanation:
A. PBKDF2 (Password-Based Key Derivation Function 2) is part of PKCS #5 v. 2.01. It applies some function (like a hash or HMAC) to the password or passphrase along with Salt to produce a derived key.

D. bcrypt is a key derivation function for passwords based on the Blowfish cipher. Besides incorporating a salt to protect against rainbow table attacks, bcrypt is an adaptive function: over time, the iteration count can be increased to make it slower, so it remains resistant to brute-force search attacks even with increasing computation power.
The bcrypt function is the default password hash algorithm for BSD and many other systems.
